For the program to work, express should be installed in the folder and the server should be running before using the HTML and the test runner

Compared to the requirements in phase 1, there were a lot of requirements that were removed due to lack of time and communication among our team members